

What would you thank a soldier for?

What superpowers would you send him?

Write down ideas of what the soldier can do on difficult days in order to cope. What values do you think the soldier should strengthen in order to cope with this difficult period?